In spite of definite instructions to be out by 6 AM on the platform watch duty, in spite of a whole night of vigil, it was only during the interval of 5 to 6, that Ch. just has a Nap. - Missed the Call at Harver exactly at 6 - So struggle as always - & naturally B. was v. - - - - -
 But it was inescapable - Water was however brought for the engine at station, and tea served at Harver - Meals for all at Birer -
 The Change at Arseker - The shifting of the luggage fr. N.S.M. & Mys. train required a large Corps, for immediate shift, half a doz. of the St. Staff supervised with the Guard. There was a regular parade of the whole station staff for that removal of the heavy packages brought their breath in - the reserved Carriage pushed by coolies to the other line, with B. & Andarans inside - a peculiar situation - slight - Nothing particular transpired bet. Arseker & Mysore, where we arrived at 7.15. pm.

The worthy S.M. on being informed that there were "bodies" in the reserved Carriage, kept himself aloof - at a distance. Arrangements were also made to shift the Carriage to a siding on the outside yard, fr. where the Andarans took to the bus standing nearby & drove straight through the private gate. - The removal of the luggage fr. train to belby station to the bungalow was managed with fast ease. & we settled justly in our respective bungalows by 9 pm.

Baba's Birth day

ಆಸೂರಿ ಜೇಯರ್ ತಿರುನಕ್ಕೈ

To day, is Baba's 4th Birthday - but, as He already instructed days before, No ceremonies, & No celebration no function - Nothing is to be observed, Since this is a Year of Seclusion, when He sees None. Hence - Nothing is to be done either at Mys, where He is, at M'abad (the head Quarters) or at Nasik - All His devotees may observe to celebrate it, at their homes, as they like. -

He Himself didn't stay here, at Mys - but Went to Bangalore - at Mr. S. Aiyangar's, but had already sent instructions as above, that Nothing is to be observed there by way of Celebrations, except His stay with the family - Over the black-board was not to be used to day, and all talks etc. were to done, with Signs & Figures.

Left Mysore at 8.20 - & arrived Bang. - 11.30 -

At the Special request of the family, B. took meals both times to day, With the family -

But the Greatest work, done to day, was the reconciliation He brought about between father & son - in a Way as a Master alone could do, handling the delicate questions & difficult Situation Most tactfully, as He alone can, bringing His loving influence to bear on both the parties, who had to yield to it eventually, breaking their hard principles & vows - for this labour of love

Early Morning, B. left ^{ಮೈಸೂರು ಮಾರೀಶಿಡಿ} Pankarapuram - and drove to the City Station - occupied a III cl. compartment in the Geetika train, to proceed to Nasik - with Jal. - train, usually quite empty, was over-crowded today: breads, usually available, could not be had today & had to be brought from elsewhere -

After B. left station, we (Ct. - Tukra) left by car for Mysore ^{ಹಾಜಿ} (Lept.) about Uparasu Maharaj's ^{about} visit to Nagar & performing B's Arati etc (at Khubra Quamra) Vide p. 50 - details with Aditi (Sr.)
(contd. from overleaf - Yesterday)

that he so unflinchingly took upon himself, which brought tears to their eyes & went a great way to melt all the differences that led to their separation - a real work indeed for which they called this day as "the greatest & most memorable day in the history of the family"

B. visited Rux's quarters in the afternoon, was much pleased with the beautiful arrangement & decoration etc. so decently & tastefully made - the best being the prayer (puja) room, with photos of all the great prophets, masters & saints, hung all along the wall, all glorified, the room full of "agarbatti" fragrance etc. - after tea & light refreshments he left.

After dinner, B. went to the City Station, to see S. Arj. off for Madras by the Night Mail

One Mr. M. Chakravarti - M.A. now with Jagatpura Anandacharya of Bombay. Came this Evening with her friends (of Mysore) - Mr. S. Angappa
- advocate, & others - desiring "clerance" of Shri B. — He had Some important things to say, in private, re: the Wonderful experiences he has been having through dreams, visions, draftsants etc. - from Masters, Angels & Heavenly Beings etc. I said that he had arrived at a stage where he needed guidance, and Gubnaal Goydas of Bombay whom he knew well, had told him to see B. first saying that he alone could solve his problems, and guide him aright, at this stage (vide separate Notes & his own letter - he wrote to B. —) an hour, in which he seemed to take much interest ^{felt} & expressed.

He referred @ G - why such a great man like him had not yet followed B - when he had seen him & had known him already
- Sankaras - ^{interested in} too much of worldly affairs - etc. He also expressed to his Western disciples & followed in whole explained was much pleased.
talks @ "Mehar Ahram" & Shivul work - Miracles etc

B. leaves Bombay with Jal for Bangalore (via Juttal) by the Madras Express - Travelling 1st class upto Gttd & then III -

A Mohammedan Sadhu from Shelapur enters his camp. -
- makes peculiar gestures & movements, tells B to be dead -
He lies down, he too follows suit & for a while all is quiet.
The Fakir goes to get down at Shakabad, about midnight but was found in the Camp: fell early morning & got down somewhere near Gttd. As J. was told, he goes anywhere, Anytime.
Any class, Much disturbed as he is known all over that Side.

~~As a result~~ the case leaves Mysore at 3 pm for Bangalore to bring B. from there, a avoid a night's journey by train - we are just in time to reach ~~the~~ at city station. Bang-

B. arrives Bangalore (via Gubbi) in the evening - & drives by car to Mysore, after several rounds in Bang. city streets in search of a telegraph office for an urgent cable for N.Y. - & when one was found after so many rounds, it was found closed - directed to head-office, but since it was getting late he left straight for Mysore -

At Maddur, in the way, had a few morsels of the meal in a lorry - B. had practically nothing, but he did it purposely for the Maudali who had Not had meals. He sat by the side of the Motor road, near a lamp-post, like travellers, and ate even the few hurried morsel in that peculiar situation.

Arrive Mysore @ 11 pm. B. doesn't disturb the audience - & rests at Maudali's bungalow for the night (B. sleeps with Maudali)
