Sir R. . . said that he differed from B's interpretation of the present Indian situation, stating that the analogy of a mother being molested by a lusty bravado and the son standing silent is not applicable in this case. He explained that India had nothing to choose between Britain and Hitler, as both nations do not stand for Truth and freedom, although they proclaim it to the world in the loudest manner. India therefore cannot join hands in this war with Britain. (He then narrated what he only recently heard from the authorative source about certain acts of Br. and inquired "who would help them with such dishonest intentions?")

He believed that if India had at all to give a message to the world, it is the message of Non-Violence. If she also joins the war, she would be also amongst the aggressive nations and she would have no message to give to the world. He further added that he would not mind even if the whole of Indian would be destroyed and efaced out of the existence, following the Non-Violence Creed. We would not regret a bit for that. Jesus died on the cross leaving for the world a Message of Love. So in his crucifixion, he resurrected Charistianity. Similarly in India's crucifixion, the world would be resurrected.

Love. So in his crucifixion, he resurrected Charistianity. Similarly in India's crucifixion, the world would be resurrected.

Mr. D.... explained that B. who knew all, must have (and his disciples do believe he has) a definite purpose in asking the Indians to join the British in their wor efforts. And this advice must have been given due to special exigencies of the time and actuated agin by the principle of obtaining far-reaching results of spiritual benefit for India. Sir R.... remerked that M. B. may be knowing all and he was prepared to believe it, but argued that when we are out to convince others, whatever our intentions and purpose, we should talk to people from their own level and these are the obvious facts (as he narrated) which cannot be ignored.

Mr. D.... replied that he cuite understood what Sir R....argued and exlained that whatever M.B. said or did, it was always based on spiritual background and forethought. He would however place this question before B. and will be happy to communicate his explanation whenever given, to Sir R.

Sir Radhakrishnan maintains that the analogy of a son's sitting idle when his mother's modesty is outraged (as given in Baba's "further explanation" on the subject of Violence & Non-Violence) is not applicable to India in the present case, as there is nothing to choose between Hitler and Britain, both fighting for their selfish interests. Each nation, except India, is t standing for Violence. India has only this message of hon-Violence to give to the world. It is possible only if she sticks to it. If she also joins the fight, then she is as bad as other nations......
