Ignorant of the real purpose of life
Forgetting the divine destiny
Immersed in egos and mundane pleasures
With unbridled greed, unrelieved hatred
And deep-rooted disease of selfishness
When hearts are torn by hate and fear
Wars find expression.

“ Bharat will ultimately win in the present conflict since I, the Ancient one, have been born here, in Bharat ”

— Meher Baba

As a cyclic divine ferment
With no earthly control
As part of the divine game and divine will
As a means to give to the weary world
A fresh dispensation of the Eternal and only Truth
To rouse humanity to its divine heritage
Forgetting their petty selves
Under the pressure of collective calamity
To dawn the era of golden age
As an alternative to war
With spontaneous outburst of unadulterated love
And universal brotherhood.
As the source of lasting peace.
