AVATAR MEHER BABA
A Short Biographical Sketch
By
ADI K. IRANI

Born in Poona, India, on February 25, 1894, Merwan S. Irani, known as Meher Baba, received His education in the town of His birth. As a boy He is said to have been both active and gentle, mischievous and unselfish. His loving nature made Him popular among His friends and acquaintances. He excelled in sports and took a great interest in literature and poetry.

While studying at the Deccan College, Poona, at the age of 19, He was touched and blessed by one of the Perfect Masters of the age, Hazrat Babajan of Poona. She transformed His life so completely that Meher Baba lost human consciousness and became merged in the Ocean of Divine Love.

Another of the God-realized Masters, Upasni Maharaj of Sakori, brought Meher Baba down to the level of human consciousness, making Him fully equipped with the all pervading knowledge of Creation and preparing Him for His role as the Avatar of the Age. This Avatatic mission started in 1921 with the gathering together of His first disciples, who gave Him the name "Meher Baba" or "Compassionate Father."

Soon after, Meher Baba started a colony near Arangaon, about six miles from Ahmednagar, called Meherabad, where He had a tuition-free school admitting boys of all castes and creeds, and a boarding school called the Prem Ashram for those boys who were most intense in their love for the God-Man. In addition, He established a free dispensary and shelters for the poor.

Meher Baba told His disciples that from July 10, 1925, He would observe silence. From that day He maintained this Silence, even till the relinquishing of His body on January 31, 1969. His many spiritual discourses and messages have been dictated by means of an alphabet board. On October 7, 1954, Meher Baba discontinued the use of the alphabet board and reduced all communication to unique hand gestures interpreted by His disciples.

The history of man's search for his Self has produced few original works dealing with the technique for the Self's discovery. Meher Baba's Discourses are a major contribution to that small body of literature. In this work, given to His close disciples in the period 1938-1943, He describes the means for incorporating daily life into one's spiritual ongoing. In His classic work, God Speaks, Meher Baba describes in detail the theme and purpose of Creation. It is dedicated "To the Universe — the Illusion that sustains Reality." The following lines are quoted from the beginning of God Speaks :

I am not come to establish any cult, society or organisation; nor even to establish a new religion. The religion that I shall give teaches the knowledge of the One behind the many. The book that I shall make people read is the book of the heart that holds the key to the mystery of life...

A persistent theme of Meher Baba's ministration in India, especially in the 1940's, had been the contacting of God-intoxicated souls, known as masts (pronounced musts). These are advanced pilgrims on the spiritual path who have become spiritually intoxicated from direct awareness of God. In The Wayfarers, by Dr. William Donkin, these contacts and visits have been recorded, and Meher Baba also contributed messages revealing the states of God-intoxication and its spiritual significance. Other vital work had been the washing of the lepers, the washing the feet of thousands of poor, and the distribution of grain and cloth to the destitute.

Meher Baba travelled to the Western World many times and visited several countries. His first of six visits to the United States was in 1931. Meher Baba also journeyed extensively throughout India by train, car, bullock cart, and foot, giving His darshan and messages of Love and Truth to thousands of His followers.

Meher Baba devoted most of His time during the last years of His life to intense work in seclusion. He said that one of the main purposes of His last seclusion of a year and a half's duration, during 1967-1968, was to give His Love to the world. It was during this period that the fire of enthusiasm in Avatar Meher Baba's message of Love and Truth began to spread. Today more and more people are coming to recognize and to feel Avatar Meher Baba as the Personification of God and the Divine Spiritual Awakener of our era. In one of His messages, Meher Baba stated:

I was Rama. I was Krishna, I was this One, I was that One, and now I am Meher Baba. In this form of flesh and blood, I am that same Ancient One who alone is eternally worshipped and ignored, ever remembered and forgotten. I am that Ancient One whose past is worshipped and remembered, whose present is ignored and forgotten, and whose future (Advent) is anticipated with great fervour and longing.

PREFACE

Scope. As the title suggests, this is a bibliography of works by and about Meher Baba in English and other European languages, covering the years 1928 through February 25, 1978. A glance in the index will show numerous titles listed under Meher Baba as author, but it should be noted that Baba stopped writing on January 1, 1927. All of these titles are actually transcriptions, compilations, selections, and excerpts from Baba's discourses and messages given over the years by means of the alphabet board and later by gestures. The material is best described as having been "written under Baba's name."

Most of the entries are in English, with a few in other European languages. However, several titles are actually bi- or multilingual and were included if one of the languages was English. The other European languages represented are Czech, French, German, Russian, and Spanish; the Indic languages included, from the multilingual material, are Gujarati, Hindi, Marathi, Tamil, and Telugu. To find listings for these languages, check the index under the name of the language.

The date of coverage was extended, from the earliest publication in 1928, through Meher Baba's birthday, February 25, 1978, which allowed the inclusion of several works appearing in the first quarter of 1978.

An attempt was made to see an actual copy of every title in the bibliography, but this proved impossible. Thus, entries are given with as much information as was available, and those items not actually seen are noted "unavailable for review." Undoubtedly some incorrect information has been presented in this way, but it was opted for error on the side of inclusion rather than omission.

Intended omissions are non-European language material, very ephemeral items, such as brochures, broadsides, posters, and works dedicated to or inspired by Meher Baba but which contain no direct reference to Him. Periodical articles have also been omitted.

Arrangement. The entry element for all items is under title. The arrangement of the titles, as well as index entries, is straight alphabetic, letter by letter, word by word. Titles beginning with numbers are filed before other entries in numerical sequence; numbers spelled out as words are filed alphabetically. Entries with exactly the same title are subarranged by subtitle, author, or place of publication, as appropriate.

Format of Entry. The form of entry follows a slightly modified version of the International Standard Bibliographic Description, as adopted by the library world in general and by many national bibliographies. The unusual punctuation is part of the standard and should not cause any problems in reading the citations. The number in the upper right-hand corner of each entry is simply a control number for internal record keeping.

The double asterisk (**) before some control numbers is an indication that the item was commercially published or is otherwise available for purchase (and thought to be still in print). The symbol was added to this category of material to distinguish it from the bulk of entries which were issued for limited distribution among followers of Meher Baba or have gone out of print.

Sections. The bibliography is divided into four sections by format: monographs, serials, sound recordings, and motion pictures. The monograph section (that is, material not published serially) contains 381 titles, including books, pamphlets, prayers, calendars, diaries, playbills and scripts, commemorative volumes, children's books, and analytics (chapters on Baba contained in books not about Baba). Twenty-three periodicals relating to Meher Baba are listed in the serials section, including newsletters of various Baba groups. The sound recording section contains 14 phonograph records, mostly songs and music inspired by Meher Baba. The 44 films included under motion pictures offer views of Meher Baba, His Mandali (close disciples and followers. Separate entries have not been given when a film was issued in more than one dimension, e.g. 16mm. And super 8mm., but notes are provided in such cases. Unfortunately, none of the films were available for reviewing while editing the entries, consequently the bibliographic information was taken from lists of films at Meherazad (Ahmednagar).

Index. Since all entries in the main sections are under title, the index includes all other access points: authors, co-authors, editors, compilers, illustrators, publishers and producers (if obviously Meher Baba-oriented), series, variant and additional titles, languages, and selected subject headings. Note that the exact relationship of a title listed under a person or organization can only be ascertained by referring to the citation in the main sequence. Few subjects are given, since all the works relate to Meher Baba in some way, and listing everything under Baba as subject would not be very useful. Only when a work specifically covered an aspect of Baba's teachings or life, described itself as biographical, or dealt with a special happening, gathering, or location, were subjects assigned. Form headings were also given for special types of material, such as "calendars & diaries," "playbills & programs," "songs & artis," "poetry," "drama," etc. All subjects are given in capital letters. Cross references are given for variant names, titles, subjects, from cities where organizations are located, and for anything under which the user might search for a work.

Acknowledgements. Special appreciation goes to the many followers of Meher Baba who volunteered to help Bal Natu to type and organize preliminary lists and citations. A vast amount of technical advice and help has come from the editor's friends and colleagues at the U. S. Library of Congress Office in New Delhi, who have been more than generous with their personal time, making it possible for this manuscript to get through the printing stage.

Adi K. Irani, one of Baba's closest disciples, was most kind to write the introductory life-sketch of Meher Baba.

To help put this bibliography into its true perspective, the following quotes of Meher Baba, conveyed through His graceful gestures, are offered to emphasize His concern for awakening our hearts rather than producing still more words :

I have come not to teach but to awaken.
If my Silence cannot be heard, of what avail words?

PREFACE TO REVISED & EXTENDED EDITION

In Honor of Jim Migdoll.

It is my privilege to dedicate this 40 year update in memory of our dear brother Jim Migdoll. He had been avidly collecting written materials relating to Avatar Meher Baba for forty years or more, while many of us either still lacked the proposition or were contentedly drowsing in our honeymoon suites. Though I never met Jimji personally we were in intermittent contact by mail, swapping information, and talking shop. The idea for a collaborative effort arose almost accidentally two years ago, when he volunteered to supply documentation from Avatar Abode's Archives, which he was then running as archivist, and to which he'd donated his extensive collection: all in an effort to help this bibliography come to fruition. Even knowing he'd only a short time to live, we worked together on a list of 50 "titles with missing information." Trading in pdf scans attached to emails or posted on servers with repeated queries and replies can be exasperating, or at least tedious at times, but Jim kept up his sporting spirit until he finally returned to his Beloved Master on January 14, 2018. The work remained unfinished until current Archivist, David Hobson, willingly took it up again, and, with due diligence completed everything to date. These additions are mainly from the 1980s and 90s, many from India and Australia, and, it goes without saying, considerably rare. It has been a rare fortune for me to have worked with these two fine gentlemen.

Need for a New Edition.

When the Avatar Meher Baba Bibliography was published in 1978, it provided the general public and the community of Meher Baba's lovers for the first time with a high-quality, meticulously compiled and comprehensive library-style catalogue of the literature by and about Avatar Meher Baba. During the four decades since its original release, valuable source material from the earliest phases of Meher Baba's mission have been discovered, diaries from the near and distant past have found their way into publication, and an enormous new literature has come into existence through various media forms. Clearly an updated, revised and extended edition is long overdue. At the same time, the proliferation of a Meher Baba literature in many new languages around the world, the emergence of new venues of publication such as the internet, and the further extension of creative effort into non-text genres such as musical CDs, published audio recordings of talks, and DVD videos poses a forbidding challenge for any bibliographer for thorough coverage. Yet, it is also exciting to see what a large portion of the record has been republished or made available for free online.

This revised and extended edition, accordingly, does not claim to be comprehensive. The extensive published literatures in non-Roman scripts, including Cyrillic, Hebrew, Farsi and the various Indian languages, for example, have not been represented; a gap which we hope will be covered eventually in the future by more competent hands. But in the meantime, we are happy to be able to say that this revised edition represents one of the most comprehensive bibliographies of Meher Baba literature now available.

Revisions.

Revising a bibliography that someone else compiled is always a task fraught with uncertainty, since one is often unsure whether or not the texts one is examining are the same as those that the original bibliographers reported. Thus we have dealt gingerly with the original text, avoiding revisions. No entries have been deleted from the original Avatar Meher Baba Bibliography in its original domain of coverage. Most importantly, editions of any listed title published pre-1978 have neither been added. In other words, any item with an index prior to February 1978 will be attributable to Bal Natu and J Flagg Kris- a very competent cataloger whom we can only hope to emulate. Every effort was made to review the texts and other materials to which they did not have access; notes have been added regarding reprintings and availability in other formats; series entries closed when title was no longer being published; and uniform titles added for translated works. Revisions are noted by "Rev." in the index and/or "Reviewed" in referenced notes.

Scope.

Scope of the edited additions is from the 1st quarter 1978 to 2019. As already noted, this update makes no claims to comprehensiveness. Rather it incorporates a selection of around 900 titles published since 25 Feb. 1978, nearly tripling the extent of the bibliography to well over one thousand entries. Respective of the scope notes from the first edition, entries for the following additional languages are now included: Dutch, Italian, Norwegian, Portuguese, Serbo-Croatian, Slovak, and Turkish.

Although the compilation might be weighted towards more recent works, as older items were difficult to find, each year of coverage in each format is represented, at an average rate of 20 -25 new titles per year. A limited number of books for children have been selected from a far larger set which might be deemed within the scope. Often we found it difficult to determine whether or not a given title was sufficiently relevant for inclusion in this bibliography. Similar considerations apply as well to poetry, performances and song inspired by Baba's life and work. As previously: ephemera, encyclopedia entries and periodical articles are intentionally omitted.

The first edition of this bibliography was written at the time of vinyl LP albums and 35mm film reels. This update attempts to cover the migration of formats since then from records to cassette tapes to compact discs to mp3 computer files, etc. For sake of brevity changes in the format of a movie or a collection of songs are mentioned only in format notes; with dates or a date range given when readily obtainable.

Tape recorded talks, popular at one time, were superseded by the filmed interview and consequently the sound recording section is nearly all music in the most prevalent format: the compact disc. New films of the biographical nature are so bountiful that it was considered expedient to omit citations when a commercial publisher could not be readily determined; instead providing references in the Appendix for the reader to various collections, online and elsewhere. Home movies have similarly been omitted.

Among recent trends was an evident shift within the subject area toward works of collective memory or social history. This shift is exemplified in the genre of the biography. Much of the material in this compilation is indeed biography in the form of testimonials and memoirs because, even when self authored, they tend to revolve around a selective set of life events involving or related to Meher Baba. And Baba himself said something to the effect: "My greatness will be seen in the lives of my lovers." Excluded from this update are a number of tributes to Meher Baba's mandali and close associates since they are obviously biographical accounts of these individuals and a step further removed from personal narratives, even when they may detail that individual's relationship with Baba in an historical manner.

Arrangement.

Minor changes have been made in arrangement, and the reader is advised to see the Section area of this preface for more information.

Sort order follows the conventions set out in the first edition, though not strictly a letter by letter sort. Titles beginning with numerals follow a logical mathematical progression, and this also extends to numeration when spelled out. The bibliographical elements / and : act as end of file markers, with the former given precedence. Items with exactly the same title are listed in an ascending sequence of the editions, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, etc. The ampersand reads as if spelled 'and'.

Format.

This updated edition has been thoroughly reformatted for improved legibility, printability and navigation. Embedded hyperlinks to outside sources have been included for ease of use in an electronic environment. As a precaution @ symbols in email addresses have been replaced by the phrase [at] in order that they might not be directly used or targeted by third-party programs. The modified ISBD format of the first edition is retained. Capitalization and punctuation vary slightly from the MARC formats.

A number of changes to international cataloging standards known as Resource Description & Access (RDA) have been adopted recently, with a greater emphasis on functionality within networked environments. It is hoped that this compilation reflects in a slight way some of these changes, by adopting bits of the terminology; the enumeration of details for electronic resources; the order in which notes are provided; and the attempt to cross reference concepts to other forms of its manifestation. Yet, there is little practical advantage in applying RDA code to any print medium, such as this bibliography, which remains outside of an integrated retrieval system. It is hoped that our efforts may assist in converting records for representation on an RDA compliant platform.

Sections.

More so than the original edition divided by four sections, this update is complicated by its categorization scheme, arranged as it is in six sections plus an Appendix. While headings are available in table of contents, it was thought helpful at this point to provide the reader with a fuller explanation of what to expect. Following is short preview of each section.

The Monographs Section comprises the bulk of this bibliography and consists of unique entries of printed publications: books, in various editions,, pamphlets, playbills, diaries, static webpages, sheet music, pdfs. Cross references for titles normally thought of as books, but listed in other sections, are provided.

Serial Section, as the name implies, is for works released in series. Multivolume monographs are now found in this Section, cross-referenced by titles from where they had previously been listed. Our arrangement mainly effects the placement of the large biographies: Meher Prabhu; Glimpses of the God-Man; and Mehera-Meher. It is the location wherein are found calendars, magazines, periodicals, newsletters, song books, pamphlet series, annual reports, as well as current blogs, edited websites and listservs. And this is the place for items published over a number of years under the same title, or those which appear with some frequency as reiterations of similar titles, ex. "A New Singalong Book — 5th ed." Under this scheme there were fewer items cited as monographs; but an increased need to search in the serials section as well if an item cannot be found.

Sound Recording Section contains both spoken word and musical performances, and is the fastest growing area herein, with an equally growing number of formats represented: LPs, cassettes, CDs, EPs, mp3s, audiobook, etc. Single tracks are entered here when particularly relevant, rather than within the Analytical Section.

Motion Picture Section pertains to film reels and consists of 44 entries taken from the first edition by Natu & Kris. According to the preface these film reels, mainly from the fifties and sixties initially serving as film stock, were not reviewed (ie. personally watched). Titles were supplied from the containers or outside resources. Natu & Kris had examined the gauge width, and did provide some information on playing times. These filmstrips are being preserved as archives, initially by MEFA and now by Beloved Archives, where digital reference prints are available for view. Some format notes are supplied for reproductions made by Meher Prasad, when known, but no effort made to catalog all these short films on videocassette, which were the mainstay of many a Baba meeting at the turn of the last century.

Videorecording Section The previous section's stock was made use of repeatedly, occasionally colorized, with a variety of sound tracks to develop longer feature films in a variety of formats. Included, as well, is at least one example of a music video located online. Home movies and filmed interviews wherein the publisher is difficult to ascertain have, as noted, been omitted.

Analytical Section This new section has been formed at the end of the bibliography proper to relieve the alphabetical congestion around the Beloved's initial letter 'M'. In the listing of an work where Meher Baba is not the central figure, eg. Mercedes de' Acosta's "Here Lies the Heart" such have been treated as analytical entries citing chapter and verse of relevant passages. Please note the listing is alphabetical by title, which appears in bold lettering. Normally the chapter title gets precedence, but if a citation lacks such and needs to have it supplied; we have proceeded to use instead the title of the larger work within which it is located, in order to list in proper sequence. Cross references from larger work to citation were thus deemed extraneous and deleted.

Appendix of Resources is devised to credit and cite any prior reference resources: such as previous bibliographies, directories, shelflists, card catalogs, or indexes of any date. A few area-specific internet portals have been included therein to which readers are referred for further information and research.

Index In lieu of a cumulative index, a new section is appended, consisting of an alphabetical listing of access points to responsible parties: such as authors, illustrators, poets, editors, composers, lead singers, directors, videographers, etc. It is not truly an index, but rather a familiar bibliographical format with the author entries in alphabetical order first, then titles in chronological order. A few points are in order to make full use of this new Section.

It is assumed the reader can move to the full bibliographical entry using a cut-and-paste approach from title or name by means of a pdf search utility. This is advisable when looking for pagination, notes and availability of items, as they are not included in the citations found there, though are given in the bibliography proper when available.

Dual listings for authors and editors, etc. under both names are limited. Three or more contributors are entered only by the first personal name, followed with ... [et al.], meaning; "and others". Thus, if a given contributor is not found in the alphabetical listing due to this elision, then a free text search from the pdf find utility is recommended. Indexing by language is not supported.

Subject heading entries in ALL CAPS refer to Meher Baba and the works in His name. They correspond to short, medium length, and long discourses under the following categories: SAYINGS, MESSAGES, and DISCOURSES respectively. Further subject headings were created for prayers, poetry, points, etc. Please observe this device is an arbitrary or subjective scheme of categorization inferred from contextual clues, rather than any sort of scientific textual analysis on our part.

Method.

Research was conducted mainly at home, at Indiana University's H.B. Wells research library, or at local public libraries. Xeroxes and other photoduplications were used very infrequently as surrogates for the materials in this update. Collection efforts were supported by online catalogs and vendors websites but later verified for accuracy. Search engines and email were relied on for permissible supplied information although documentation was also sought.

Chief resources consulted include OCLC and RILIN bibliographic utilities, catalogs of the Library of Congress and National Libraries of European and Commonwealth countries, UNESCO Index Translationum database, the U.S. Copyright Office Public Catalog, ATLA and JStor indexes. Reference works in print included Bowker's Books in Print, Gales's Publisher's International ISBN Directory, ALA's Social Responsibilities Round Table Task Force on Alternatives in Print Catalog, Wilson's Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature, New Religious Movements in the United States and Canada / Diane Choquette, Religious Information Sources / J. Gordon Melton & M. A. Koszegi, and Encyclopedic Handbook of Cults in America / J. G. Melton. Trade journals reviewed include The Awakener magazine, Broken-down furniture news, Glow International, and Love street lamp post.

Shelflists were kindly provided by the Copyright Office at the Trust (Ahmednager, MS India), The Avatar Meher Baba Heartland Center (Prague, OK), Jim Migdoll Archive (Bangalow, NSW Australia), Meher Baba Center of Northern California (El Cerrito), and Meher Baba Center of The Twin Cities (St. Paul, MN) repository of the Earl Starcher collection. Keyword searches within the websites of book vendors were also used, including Abebooks, Alibris, Amazon, Love Street Bookstore, Sheriar Books, and Searchlight Books. Hughie Macdonald freely provided DVD recordings of Baba's Birthday plays.

Acknowledgements.

The idea for an update initially came to life many years ago in conversation with Michael Ivey, at that time caretaker for the new Meher Baba Center in Prague, OK., and looking to start a library collection there. At about the same time Charlotte Allison gave away a nearly complete collection of LampPosts she could no longer read due to failing eyesight, thus did this research begin. By coincidence some kind words of initial encouragement were received from Murshida Carol Weyland Conner, for which we were highly appreciative.

I would like to thank Meher Baba for pulling me from my self-protective cocoon and engaging me with all the people who have helped in this endeavour, particularly to Caroline Beebe, Margaret Eucker, Michael Haldeman, Leah Johnston, Ellen Kimball, Meredith Klein, Ben Leet, Chris Malakapali, Jim Migdoll, Deborah Nordeen, Miriam Rose, Ryan Steel, Gabriella Tal, and Carol Verner who lent or sent materials and helped with citations; to friends Steve Bly, Marti Faist, Dorene Fatula, and Dr. Paula Saffire for opening their personal collections for perusal; to Mona Brodin and Eric Solibakke for assistance with translations and issues of style; to Jean Gousseff for his assistance with items in French; to Cyrus Khambata for his aid in collecting recent materials from the AMB Bombay Centre; to François Lemétais for similar help at Les Amis de Meher Baba; and finally to Naosherwan Anzar for his most warm welcome and assistance in searching through the Beloved Archives film collection. Thanks to the many individual authors, artists, editors, poets, producers and musicians who voluntarily gave of their time to field questions via email; I wish to acknowledge my reference instructor Vania Marie Goodwin; and I'd like to thank the unknown and unsung public librarians at Monroe County PL who for many years have, to the best of their abilities, fulfilled my requests for outside loan materials. Most specially also, I'd like to thank Gabriella Tal for everything she's done for me, and for her general good nature and support over the course of this project. In passing this manuscript along I'd like to say thank you Meher Baba for the efforts of our ghostly colleague David Hobson, to Frank Bloise, the webmaster, for his patient support, and to Ward Parks and our kindly patrons at the Trust, who have provided us with this opportunity to publish in His name.

This present update is the last one envisioned by myself in this format. Still much remains to be done, God- willing, and hopefully with the aid of an open source library application: the coverage of non-Roman scripts, the authority work commenced with the index of the first edition, the inclusion of at least one subject heading per entry, the identification of a core literature, and a reader's advisory, all in addition to periodic updating of the whole... some how... some day... some way!

Discourses / by Meher Baba.

Historical note. The Discourses of Meher Baba were first printed in India in five volumes during the years 1939-1943. The discourses in the first four volumes were reprinted from Meher Baba journal. Four subsequent editions were printed up through 1954. These editions or printings were issued for limited distribution to followers of Baba. In 1967, Sufism Reoriented published a 6th revised edition in three volumes for public sale and distribution. Subsequently a 7th revised edition in one volume was published and widely distributed by Sheriar Press in 1987, serving as the basis for several translations as well. After a clamour for the return of the O.P. 6th ed., a four volume set was published as the revised 6th ed. by Sheriar Foundation in 2007.

Various volumes of the five volume sets [1941]-1947 are also available in online versions:

Author, an English expatriate in Portugal, professed advanced Daoist and former devotee of Kamala Reddy aka Mother Meera, claims to know the nature of Meher Baba's inner work as well as his one "avataric" mistake. Author dismisses much of Meher Baba's Advent as pretense, akin to the myth of Saturn, a cannibalizing the efforts of others past, present and future. Calls Upasni Maharaj's tutelage a "critical error" (p.247); the ensuing tug-of-war between the two leading to WWII.

The White dinosaur ... 2018 (Card 2)

States Meher Baba did not achieve manonash, Nirvana nor annihilation (p.196) and that the 1952 automobile accident was a universal rebuke of his claims to divinity.

Profile provided of Meher Baba while generally sympathetic at the beginning of chapter becomes an increasingly bizarre character assassination.
